Réf. : IO-WIN-001

Single-user license of the lolaos interactive software (purchased with interactive hardware)

Thanks to lolaos, your interactive presentations become multimedia. Add videos, sounds, annotate your images, use digital resources for even richer presentations.

lolaos software is easy to use and offers a wide range of features, a first overview of which can be found below.

It is provided as a standard with our SpeechiTouch displays and is now available with our other interactive solutions!

Description détaillée

Intuitive basic functions

The IWB lolaos software is perfectly multitouch. You can therefore annotate several simultaneously.

Among the basic functionalities, beyond annotation, are geometric shape addition, automatic shape recognition, text addition and handwriting recognition.

lolaos, a very complete interactive software lolaos offers you, beyond the basic functions, a database of educational resources in mathematics, physics and chemistry to enhance your courses.

You will find in particular compass, tool of function drawings, containers to carry out an assembly of chemistry lab etc.

Do you want to illustrate your presentation with pictures? lolaos offers you the possibility to integrate images directly from the Google search engine.

Annotate all your pages and applications very easily on your interactive screen lolaos also offers a floating palette to annotate all your presentations. This palette not only allows you to write, but also gives access to toolbox features such as the projector (to focus attention), whiteboard or screenshot.

The license works under Windows. It may only be used on eBeam, NEC or Speechi branded interactive material, marketed by Speechi or one of our authorized resellers.
